Excavator Program Coverage for Pipeline Association for Public Awareness

- The Pipeline Association for Public Awareness (PAPA) is a nonprofit corporation established in 2004 to provide educational information concerning pipeline safety and emergency preparedness to residents and businesses located near pipelines, emergency responders and public officials in communities with pipelines and excavators working near pipelines.
- PAPA believes that open communication and cooperation with local organizations enhances public safety, improves emergency preparedness, protects the environment and prevents damage to pipeline property and facilities.
- Pipeline members include people, organizations and other entities who own or operate pipeline facilities. Sustaining members include people, organizations and other entities who make charitable contributions to support PAPA's pipeline safety educational programs.

Keeping our Pipelines Safe

- PAPA administers pipeline safety and emergency readiness programs for Emergency Responders, Excavators, Public Officials, One-Call centers and School Officials across the United States.
